Referendum voted down

Dept. looks to Nov.

By JESSICA JACOBSEN
jjacobsen@nwnewsgr.com

ANTIOCH - The Antioch Fire Department/First Fire Protection District came up short again. Voters once again rejected the department's attempts to increase the tax rate in Antioch Township.

According to www.lake.co.il.us, the referendum lost by 234 votes. With the margin being so close, Jeff Vandevoorde, assistant chief with the department, said the department will most likely try to get the referendum on the November ballot. He said those in the department would have to talk to the district board before he would know for sure.

The referendum called for a tax rate increase from 18.5 cents per equalized assessed value of property per $100 to 40 cents EAV.

"We're all pretty disappointed here," Vandevoorde said. "We feel the quality of service would have been improved."

If the district decides to place the referendum on the ballot again, Vandevoorde said, mailers, more township meetings, and even door-to-door campaigning would be some of the strategy tactics.

This is the department's third attempt to increase funding. The funding would have been used to have around the clock staff at Stations 2 and 3, which are unmanned at this point. The only station with a 24-hour staff is Station 1, at 835 Holbeck Drive.

&gt;&gt; Editor'sChoice

My name is Joe Grace, and I'm the new managing editor of your Journal.

I could give you a long history about myself (raised by wolves with Abe Lincoln in a log cabin, that sort of deal), but the only thing you really need to know is that I believe in community journalism.

I've worked for a variety of different-sized newspapers, and the one recurring theme is that people want to read about people who live close to them and events that affect them, not something they could just as easily read in the Daily Herald or Chicago Tribune. We might not be as big as those papers, but we certainly can be more local. And we will be.

Journalism is changing, and smaller, community newspapers are changing with it. The days of writing about meetings and games that took place a week ago are finished.

Instead, we'll write about how meeting decisions affect your life and highlight upcoming games and the athletes who make those games so interesting.

We'll focus on telling stories. Good stories.

I believe everybody has a good story – the person who bumps past you in the grocery stores, the woman you see running the sidewalks at 7 a.m., the man in line with you at the post office.

It's our job to find those stories and tell them.

Looking for something to do when you're not at work? We will let you know what is coming up in your town. Sometimes we'll just give you a time, date and place. Other times, we'll give you an in-depth preview of an event.

We want to be your go-to paper for your town, and we will strive to meet that goal. It's going to be a fun ride, and I'm looking forward to meeting and talking with the people of Lake County.

I'm always open to ideas, and I want to hear from you. You can call me at 815-326-1734, or e-mail me at jgrace@nwnewsgroup.com.

'High School Musical' ice skaters perform at Rink Side in Gurnee

By YADIRA SANCHEZ OLSON
ysanchez@nwnewsgroup.com

GURNEE — Thirty lucky ice skaters got a chance to share the ice at Rink Side Sports and Family Entertainment Center in Gurnee with cast members of "Disney's High School Musical: The Ice Tour."

Five cast members of the popular show took time off from their touring schedule to teach the group of ice skaters some moves from the show.

"This was a very exciting event," said Jeanne Lundgren, director of sales and marketing at Rink Side.

Lundgren added that "our skaters have known about this for about two weeks, and they couldn't wait; this was very special."

Lundgren said that last year, while doing a story on one of the center's summer programs, a Fox News member asked whether the rink would be interested in having Disney's stars come to the center for promo-

"We were contacted in January about this, and we were thrilled; we sent out e-mails to our students about it, and it was on a first-come first-serve basis," Lundgren said.

The ice skaters, who were different ages and skating levels, first got to see each cast member display some of their skills on the ice.

The skaters were then broken up into three groups to learn the choreography to "We're All in This Together," one of the show's most popular songs.

Once the groups had learned the moves, they gathered in the middle of the rink to perform the production number along with the stars.

"It was a lot of fun," said Zaira Taberna, 13, who's been skating for eight years.

The show is playing at the United Center in Chicago through Feb. 10. The show's next stop is Boston.

Leaping to success

Local author gets 2nd children's book published

By DANI SCHWEIGERT
dschweigert@nwnewsgroup.com

Leap into reading

LIBERTYVILLE - Dawn Desjardins, an author from Libertyville, finds inspiration for her books from listening to those around her. So when Woodland Elementary West Assistant Principal Joan Luxon said there was a need for a children's book about leap year, Desjardins was all ears.

"I was at an author visit for my first book, 'The Autumn Marathon,' and [Luxon] said they needed a leap year story," Desjardins said. "I went online, and indeed, there were no picture books for children about leap year."

So Desjardins got started writing "Leopold's Long Awaited Leap Year Birthday," a 32-page children's book complete with illustrations by C. E. Locander of Buffalo Grove. The book tells the story of Leopold, a frog born on Feb. 29, who waits for his birthday to come, but four years go by and his birthday is nowhere to be found.

Explaining the concept of a leap year, a year with an extra day that comes every four years, is difficult - especially when writing for children, Desjardins said.

"I sat down with calendars and encyclopedias and did some research," she said. "I made myself a little girl again and tried to think through a child's eyes."

But, she added, helping children understand the idea of a leap year isn't the only message "Leopold" offers.

"The nicest surprise of this whole thing has been [the feeling of] validation and the response from families and people with Feb. 29 birthdays to say that it does exist, and it's kind of a tricky topic," she said. "It also talks about waiting. Waiting can be difficult, challenging and exciting. Leopold is a nice little frog, and he's just waiting patiently for his birthday to come."

"Leopold" was published by Artistic Ventures Publishing and was released Feb. 1. Desjardins said she began writing the book in September 2007 and that it took about four months to complete. Now that Desjardins has two children's books under her belt, she is looking to write books for adults. But her passion will remain children's stories.

And Desjardins had some words of wisdom for writers.

"The best advice I can give would be to listen," she said. "Listen to ideas, and listen for critique."

Residents love to love

Well, it's "be my valentine" time once more. As Valentine's Day approaches, we turn to thoughts of love.

Geri Meyer, Wauconda's famous Egg Lady, recalls a romantic egg she designed for a smitten young man to give to his lady fair when she was a college co-ed. Geri created a lovely egg covered in filigree made up of love birds. Inside the egg were the figures of a man and woman embracing. The couple was standing on a tiny platform that contained a small drawer. The lovesick fellow planned to place an engagement ring inside the drawer. She must have said yes because 20 some years later the egg and the marriage were in fine condition.

A more current love tale involved Amy Maximoff and her true love, Brian Mauro. It was Amy's birthday recently, and Brian plied her with presents. At the end of the day as they sat in her living room, Amy sighed and said, "Wow, what a great birthday. Thank you, Brian."

Brian looked at Amy with a twinkle in his eyes and said, "Oh yeah, there's one more. But it's no big deal."

With that, he tossed a small, plastic ball to her. Amy discovered that it was a container, and when she opened it, she found a beautiful engagement ring inside. The sparkle in Amy's eyes matched the sparkle of the ring as Brian popped the question with a playful smile.

Isn't love grand?

'My Way,' 'Hound Dog,' or 'Hotel California?'

What's your choice? Or should we say, who's your choice: the swinging songs of Sinatra, the torrid tunes of Elvis or maybe the mellow music of the Eagles?

Whatever you like, you might hear it all if you get over to the American Legion Hall in Wauconda on Feb. 9. The American Legion Riders will present Rex, a versatile performer who does Sinatra, Elvis, the Eagles, Dean Martin and many more famous entertainers. He doesn't just sing their songs. He takes on their whole persona. Rex has been dazzling audiences for years. So what'll it be? "My Way," "Hound Dog" or a little "Hotel California?" Mark your calendars for 8 p.m. Feb. 9. Tickets are $5 at the door. Don't miss the high energy performance. A 50/50 raffle adds to the fun. As Dean Martin once sang "Everybody loves somebody sometime." This could be your time to love Rex.

Lake County museum receives top honor

WAUCONDA - The Lake County Discovery Museum was recently named the winner of the 2008 Library of the Year award by the North Suburban Library System (NSLS).

The Library of the Year award is presented to one library for creative and effective practices that support outstanding service and serve as a role model for other libraries.

The Lake County Discovery Museum was chosen for the award through voting of the staff and trustees of libraries in the NSLS.

The library is highly valued by researchers and the staff guides users of all ages through their unique historical collections, including Civil War diaries, photographs and artifacts from the Fort Sheridan U.S. Army post, local school histories, and the world's largest public postcard collection, according to a press release.

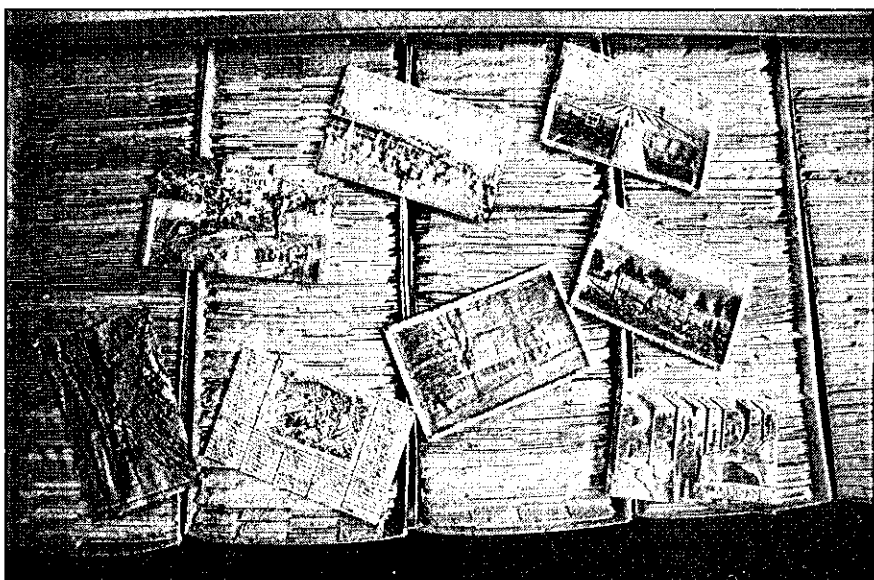

Many of these items have been expertly placed on the Digital Past Web site, www.digitalpast.org.

Christine Pyle, historical resources manager for the museum, said the award is a big honor.

"The biggest projects that we have is digitalizing our collection," Pyle said. "That has been extremely well-received. People from all over the world have access. Also, we received an $85,000 grant to digitize our World War II photos. That will take quite a while."

Pyle said people of all types come to the library for research, from high school students, to adults working on books.

The library will be honored at the

Ice fishing derby gets under way

Anglers gather for 48th Annual Ice Fishing Derby

By JESSICA JACOBSEN
jjacobsen@nwnewsgroup.com

ANTIOCH - It looks like the Northern Illinois Conservation Club will have ice at its 48th Annual Ice Fishing Derby and Winter Festival Feb. 9 and 10.

Weather reports estimate temperatures to be in the 30s those days. But even if the ice has thawed on the Chain O' Lakes, that won't stop the derby.

Marguerite O'Connell, president of the NICC, said she expects people to show up no matter what the weather is like.

"Come rain or snow or shine, we will be there," she said.

O'Connell said sometimes the weather doesn't even have an affect on the attendance because people just want to come out and enjoy the event.

"We really have a blast," she said.

Headquarters for the event will be at the Thirsty Turtle on Channel Lake in Antioch.

The derby is the main fundraiser of the year for the NICC, but this year, the NICC is trying to help another organization, as well.

Each person attending the derby has been asked to bring a non perishable item that will be donated to Open Arms Mission in Antioch. Participants will receive a special raffle ticket for each item donated.

The winner of the raffle will be announced at the end of the derby Feb. 10.

"We thought it would be a benefit to give back to the community," O'Connell said.

The NICC gives back to the community through its own programs such as safety, O'Connell said, but this was an opportunity for the organization to give back outwardly.

"We just thought it would be a really nice boost," she said.

The derby officially begins at 8 a.m. Feb. 9, but some dedicated anglers might be seen as early as 7 a.m., O'Connell said. At 3 p.m. Feb. 10, the derby will conclude with an auction.

For those who didn't get enough of the derby or the winter festival, the NICC will have an after-derby event with more games and activities.

Man dies in snowmobiling accident

Lakemoor resident fell into Nippersink Lake in Fox Lake

NORTHWEST NEWS GROUP

FOX LAKE – A 36-year-old man from Lakemoor died Feb. 2 after falling into Nippersink Lake about 3 a.m. while snowmobiling.

Authorities were unsure whether Mark B. Turkula fell through ice or tried to travel across open water.

He was traveling last in a line of four snowmobiles and was found floating in the water after the others realized he was missing.

Attempts to revive him were unsuccessful. "The ice conditions on the Chain O' Lakes are changing hourly and getting bad," Fox Lake Assistant Fire Chief Ed Lescher said. Turkula was found in seven feet of water near El Puerto Mexican restaurant off Forest Avenue.

"I don't know how much time elapsed before they realized he was missing.

There were conflicting reports on that," Conservation police Officer Miken van Wiltenburg said.

An autopsy was conducted Feb. 2, but Van Wiltenburg did not know the results.

Conservation officers were expected to return to the area the next day.

No charges were filed.

Golden Dragon Acrobats to return Feb. 16

GRAYSLAKE – The Golden Dragon Acrobats, a group that mixes award-winning Chinese acrobatics, traditional dance, spectacular costumes and ancient and contemporary theatrical techniques, will return to the College of Lake County on Saturday, Feb. 16.

Because the 2007 Golden Dragons show at CLC sold out 10 days ahead of the performance, two shows will be offered this year, at 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. in the Mainstage Theatre of the James Lumber Center for the Performing Arts in Grayslake.

As China's leading acrobatic troupe, the company performs thrilling and jaw-dropping feats. Dressed in elaborately decorated traditional costumes and representing a time honored tradition that began more than 25 centuries ago, the group has thrilled and amazed audiences across the world by performing throughout the United States and in more than 65 countries on five continents.

In November 2005, the Golden Dragon Acrobats made their Broadway debut at the New Victory Theater in New York.

The successful run earned two of the most prestigious New York Drama Desk nominations – impresario Danny Chang for Unique Theatrical Experience and Angela Chang for Best Choreography.

Tickets are $23-$31 for the general public (discounts available), $13 for children younger than 12 and $16 for CLC students.

Locals can protect their smile

LAKE COUNTY JOURNALS

In conjunction with National Children's Dental Health Month in February, the Lake County Health Department/Community Health Center urges parents to help protect their children's teeth.

Tooth decay among children is a growing concern, according to a release from the health department.

A report from the U.S.

Surgeon General's Office indicates that tooth decay is the single most common chronic childhood disease, and that minority populations represent the sector with the highest risk.

"Children need the guidance of their parents or guardians to develop good oral health habits at a young age," said Dale Galassie, the health department's executive director, in a statement. "Good habits pay off with fewer cavities, less time missed from school due to tooth aches, and better health."

To protect children's teeth, the health department recommends the following:

Infants should not be allowed to go to sleep with a bottle of milk or other liquid (other than water), which promotes tooth decay.

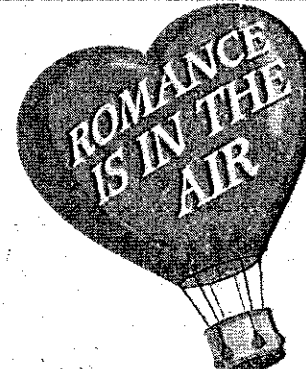

A child's first visit to the dentist should be before his or her first birthday.

Super Bowl memory can teach life lessons

As I was watching the Super Bowl on Sunday, I was reminded of the first life lesson I learned.

It was the 1990 football season and the Buffalo Bills were playing the New York Giants in the Super Bowl.

I was a Buffalo Bills fan, having decided at an early age to pick out my favorite teams completely at random. (I'm also a Chicago Cubs, Orlando Magic and New York Rangers fan. Go figure.)

At the time, I was 9 years old, an impressionable pup who still believed that life was nothing but roses and touchdowns.

I would soon find out how very wrong I was.

I remember watching Scott Norwood line up to kick the winning football. I remember watching it sail wide right. I remember crying in the hallway.

It's the first time I remember crying about something, and I was kid who cracked his collar bone by falling off the top of a slide when I was 7. When Scott Norwood missed that kick, though, I learned that everything in life was not necessarily going to go my way.

Things have not gone my way many times since, and they certainly haven't been constrained to the football field, though three more Super Bowl losses for my Bills didn't feel good.

In addition to football losses, the heart has been broken, the ego crushed, the spirit singed.

I've not been chosen as captain, not been elected to homecoming court, not made the basketball team, not been hired, not been accepted.

And it all started with Scott Norwood's kick and a Super Bowl loss. At that moment, I learned not everything will go right in life.

This year, in a reversal of roles, I was rooting for the Giants to win the Super Bowl against the 18-0 New England Patriots. Perfection is so boring, and I almost always root for the underdog.

Sure enough, the Giants pulled off the upset and I celebrated.

And I remembered when I was chosen as captain, scored 40 points in a basketball game, got hired, got accepted.

I was never elected to homecoming court, though. Oh, well.

I learned a powerful lesson about life when I was nine years old, but, maybe more importantly, I never forgot an equally important lesson.

Sometimes you miss the game-winning kick, but there's hardly ever just one game-winning kick in life and you can't be afraid to get up to the line again.

Generosity helps school

To the editor:
The Board of Directors of Prairie Crossing Charter School (School District 900) wants to express our deeply felt gratitude to the students, parents, staff, community organizations and businesses whose generosity allowed us to raise more than $200,000 in response to our annual appeal.

The results of this appeal exceeded expectations, and will allow us to maintain current staffing through this fiscal year.

The board acknowledges the contributions of time and money as support to our school's mission, and our potential to continue providing an excellent educational program.

Special thanks to the parents who worked many hours on the appeal, and those who gave personally, and to the students for their "penny wars."

Their efforts were bolstered by a generous matching grant from the Liberty Prairie Foundation.

The board is deeply grateful for the overwhelming effort, and is dedicated to achieving ongoing financial stability for our school.

Re: John Matijevich

To the editor:
John S. Matijevich objects to military recruiting in high schools accepting federal money under the "No Child Left Behind Act." He wrote:

1. "It is obvious the probability of signing 17-18 year olds (for military service) is apt to be more productive (than college recruiting)."

2. "A 'growing number' of high schools have been pressured by parent organizations and students saying recruiting targets the ignorant."

3. High schools "only out" (from furnishing student information to the military) is parents filing a "not interested" form.

4. Low income and minorities are targeted

5. The law invades privacy because the Pentagon has outsourced 30 million names and that can be "scary."

6. Military offers "alluring" sign-up bonuses,

7. Returning veterans are denied "rightful benefits."

Bean responds to State of the Union address

U.S. Rep. Melissa Bean, D-Barrington, released the following statement in response to President Bush's State of the Union address:

"I was encouraged to hear the president tonight echo the bipartisan spirit that he demonstrated while working with Congress on the economic stimulus package, and which I've seen personally in working with Treasury Secretary [Henry] Paulson. I'm particularly gratified that the small business provisions that I earlier introduced were included in the stimulus deal."

Bean also commented on the war in Iraq.

"On Iraq, while we're all encouraged by the recent military progress, the political progress that was promised has yet to be seen. Ultimately, that political reconciliation is up to the Iraqi people and not us."

"Overall, I'm hopeful that the president will use his final year in office to be as productive as possible on a bipartisan basis, and I'm ready to work with him toward that end."

"I am honored to lend my name and support to John McCain," Osmond said in a statement. "John McCain is a principled, forthright statesman and a true American hero. I am convinced that he is the most electable Republican for the office of president."

Osmond joins a list of more than 20 Illinois Congressmen and members of the Illinois Assembly that have endorsed McCain's presidential bid, according to a release from her office.

Forest Preserve District takes giant step

The Lake County Forest Preserve District, at its January meeting, went on a record-setting spending spree, acquiring almost 700 acres of open space. The $42 million buy will add three new forest preserves and other key sites.

The commissioners unanimous vote attests to their commitment to concentrate on land acquisition to preserve open space in the county. It is especially laudable because the bulk of the acreage lies in high-growth areas of Antioch, Wauconda, and Elia Township.

District President Bonnie Thomson Carter rightly emphasized the importance of protecting green spaces in the heart of the county's fastest growing communities. I never could figure out those who opposed the protection of our natural resources alongside residential properties. The blend of open spaces increases the valuation of residential properties and surely enhances the quality of life.

When I was flipping TV channels, I hit upon the district's meeting. It was heartening to hear Commissioner Judy Martini, R-Antioch, heap praise upon the late F.T. "Mike" Graham, the "father of open space," as well as former county board chairmen Norm Geary and John Balen. She said that it was their pioneer leadership of open space that brought us to this historic day.

As one who has been critical of the possibility that the district might spend huge sums to rebuild the Fort Sheridan Golf Course, I was happy about the recent land purchase. It fits the district's primary mission.

Based on what I hear, the citizens believe that the district should "stay on that course, rather than on golf courses."

Which reminds me. Residents might have heard that the Waukegan Park District summarily "closed shop" on its blue collar Orchard Hills Golf Course to replace it with a sports complex featured by many soccer fields. Almost immediately, there were requests that the forest preserve district fill that void to save the golf course.

I want to commend Commissioner Ann Maine, R-Lincolnshire, who basically said, we don't want to buy any more golf courses. Leave that up to recreation boards or districts. Her sentiments were ratified in a subsequent meeting by officials of the two districts.

When the forest preserve district spent the $42 million, it just about broke the bank for land acquisition. There will be only about $12 million left for that purpose. That means that the district might approach the voters in another referendum to fatten up the kitty.

I would hope that they don't hold a referendum until we voters find out definitively how much they plan to spend to rebuild the Fort Sheridan Golf Course. Many citizens have been waiting for the result of the law suit with the developer of the Town of Fort Sheridan over the monster pile of debris left over from the construction of the town.

The cleanup of the pile and the future of the golf course are still in question until those matters are settled.

When the dust settles, if megadollars for a high-end premier golf course are proposed, the forest preserve district will have lost my vote for the first time, and I won't be alone.

Murdered teen's friends express relief over man's plea of guilt

By SARAH SUTSCHEK
ssutschek@nwnewsgroup.com

INGLESIDE - For her senior year at Grant Community High School, Elizabeth Willding's big project was going to be creating a tutoring service for kids who couldn't afford to pay.

She and another friend had started it in the last few months of her junior year before she was murdered in July 2004 by a neighbor over digital camera cords, prosecutors said.

Adam Christenson, 25, pled guilty Feb. 4 to stabbing Willding more than 40 times. Officials said he entered Willding's home, which she shared with her mother and two older sisters on two occasions. The first time he stole an Xbox and digital camera, only to return later after he realized the camera was missing cords and batteries.

Christenson's sentencing is scheduled for March 17.

"I'm glad because I want her parents and family to be able to close this chapter of their lives," said Ellen Corey, a guidance counselor where Willding worked as an aide. "Every time the case comes up, they're grieving again and again and the wounds are open. The family has suffered so much and we just want them to be able to heal."

Christenson pleaded guilty and mentally ill while maintaining his innocence, admitting that a reasonable judge or jury would find him guilty when presented with the evidence. This will not have any bearing on his sentencing, Assistant State's Attorney Mike Mermel said.

"People often confuse this with not guilty, by reason of insanity," Mermel said. "He is as guilty as any person. He will be incarcerated for an allotted period of time ... he can't be let out by psychiatrists."

Christenson lied to police, Mermel said.

"That's rock solid evidence that he knew what he did was wrong," he said.

Two scholarships were set up at Grant in Willding's name, remembering the 16-year-old's involvement in volleyball and student council, among other activities.

Mary Conway, who works at the school as a guidance secretary, said her daughter ate lunch with Willding every day. "Their whole senior year, everything was marked by Liz is not here for this," Conway said.

FOX LAKE - There is a rockin' opportunity set for an audience and contestants as Grant High School hosts a Guitar Hero III contest.

The event will be from noon to 6 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 9.

The popular game series has a simple premise: Players use a small plastic guitar instead of a controller.

The guitar has buttons that the player tries to press with the corresponding "note" on the screen.

"All 'Guitar Hero' fans are welcome to participate in our contest," said Krista Koske, Grant High's musical director. "Grant students, staff and community members can join the fun."

The cost is $10 in advance and $15 at the door.

There will be four rounds of competition: easy, medium, hard or expert.

The contestants who make the final round in each level will be showcased in the "Final Face-off Show" in the auditorium at 7 p.m. Admission for spectators to the face-off show is $5.

Cash will be awarded to winners according to competition levels, easy wins $25; medium, $50; hard, $75 and expert, $1,200.

"It is the kickoff for our fundraiser for the trip to Walt Disney World next year," Koske said.

Wauconda president's new look for cause

By STEVE PETERSON
speterson@nwnewsgroup.com

WAUCONDA - Village President Sal Saccomanno will have a different look Feb. 24.

That is because he and Police Officer Eric Schultz both will have their heads shaved Feb. 23, they announced. The event will take place as part of the Wauconda Chamber of Commerce Expo. Schultz has bone cancer, and Saccomanno is shaving his head as a show of solidarity. Deputy Chief Pat Yost also will join in.

Yost said that Schultz spent one year on the police force before learning of the cancer. Schultz was born and raised in Wauconda and is a Wauconda High School graduate.

"It is an excellent fit," Yost told Wauconda Rotary Club members. "We are doing it for the foundation in Eric's name."

Chamber of Commerce Expo hours are from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Feb. 23 at Wauconda High School, 555 N. Main St.

This is being done as part of the annual St. Baldricks effort, which supports children who have cancer and typically lose their hair during treatment, as well as raising funds for childhood cancer research.

For information on the Wauconda effort, Saccomanno can be reached at village hall, 847-526-9600.

Rotary Club meeting

Wauconda Rotary Club President Bill Hogan said the club now is meeting at 7 a.m. each Wednesday at Lindy's Landing, 115 Park Ave.

The club is planning its spring fundraiser.

Yost at a club meeting Jan. 16 told of another effort, this one in his role as senior vice commander of the Wauconda American Legion. A delegation of Wauconda veterans met with Illinois Veterans Affairs Director Tammy Duckworth about a program to help veterans upon their return from active duty.

'The Importance of Being Earnest' still funny after all these years

Oscar Wilde's classic comedy of manners, "The Importance of Being Earnest" will be presented by the College of Lake County Theatre Department on two weekends, Feb. 22-24 and Feb. 28 through March 1 in the Studio Theatre of the James Lumber Center for the Performing Arts on the Grayslake campus.

Hailed as the funniest play in the English language, Wilde's brilliant comedy follows the antics of two bachelors as they pursue true love and the perfect cucumber sandwich. Both men take the alias of "Ernest" in order to capture the hearts of two young ladies who are convinced they could never love anyone who was not named Ernest.

When the men discover that maintaining double identities is more challenging than they expected, comic mayhem ensues. Sparkling dialogue and a surprising plot combine in this dazzling masterpiece.

The two male leads - who both disguise themselves as "Ernest" - are played by Bill Roberts of Libertyville and Dave Vasicek of Wauconda, two CLC acting students who have worked together since 2005.

Director Craig Rich has no doubts that the two students can handle the witty dialogue and physical comedy required in "The Importance of Being Earnest."

The CLC cast consists of Dave Vasicek (Wauconda) as John Worthing, Bill Roberts (Libertyville) as Algernon Moncrieff, Thomas Ogilvie (Gurnee) as Rev. Chasuble, John Stergiou (Gurnee) as Lane and Merriman, Sharon Aiello (Barrington) as Lady Bracknell, Jennifer Neumann (Antioch) as Gwendolyn Fairfax, Kellie Piña (Gurnee) as Cecily Cardew and Elizabeth Cooper (Gurnee) as Miss Prism.

The show will be presented in the Studio Theatre on Feb. 22, 23, 28, 29 and March 1 at 7:30 p.m. and Feb. 24 at 2 p.m. Tickets are $10 each for the general public and $8 for CLC students/staff, seniors 65+ and JLC season subscribers. Prices include a $1 per ticket James Lumber Center restoration fee. Tickets are available at the CLC Box Office in the James Lumber Center on the Grayslake campus, 19351 W. Washington St. Tickets may be purchased in person, by phone at (847) 543-2300, or at www.clcillinois.edu/tickets. To request sign language interpreting, please call the Box Office at (847) 543-2300 at least two weeks in advance. For group sales information, call (847) 543-2431.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS

This is to inform you that there is a possibility you may be contacted by someone trying to scam you. The scammers use plays such as offering to pay you a processing fee for depositing checks and sending a percentage back to them. These checks are FAKE and YOU will be held liable for repaying the funds to the bank.

Typically the scammers will contact you via email or via a phone relay system for the hearing impaired so you don't know where they are calling from or what they sound like.

Recently arrests were made in the Netherlands, Nigeria & Canada with fake checks worth more than $2.1 billion dollars. The average victim of this scam loses $3000 to $4000.

Please Be Cautious.

For information on how to report a scam, go to: <http://www.ic3.gov/>

This is the Internet Crime Complaint Center and is a partnership between the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) & the National White Collar Crime Center.
